

Newslines 15 April

Published: 15th April 2019

Author: Robin Roberts

Online version: <http://www.wheelswithinwales.uk/newslines-15-april-3/>

The RAC says some 27M motorists will hit the roads of the UK this week, nearly half before Friday.

Today is expected to be busiest with 4.7M journeys undertaken compared with anticipated 4.4M on Good Friday, according to INRIX analytics.

Audi S6 and S7 models now come only as diesels with 48v electric motor assistance.

The hybrid powertrain is a perfect fit for the executive models with a sporting character.

MG Motor UK has expanded the range of choice in the ZS product range following the introduction of the ZS Limited Edition, which is now available to order from £14,995.

Limited to just 400 units, the ZS Limited Edition adds even more style to MG's popular ZS range thanks to a long list of visual and specification enhancements over the mid-trim Excite model on which it is based.

A new powertrain range is unveiled for Nissan's X-Trail crossover.

There are new 150ps 1.7-litre diesel and 160ps 1.3-litre petrol engines with six-speed manual and all-new Dual Clutch Transmission in 2WD and 4WD choices to suit all buyers' requirements for five or seven seats from £25,795 to £28,995.